EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

Northwest Respiratory Services offers 24 hour service, with Service Technicians on call "around the clock." Respiratory therapists are also always available for consults.

For routine service calls, contact our office during regular office hours, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.. You should always call our office well before you are out of oxygen or supplies to allow sufficient time for replacement.

If you do have an equipment emergency, please call the office regardless of the time. An answering service will relay your message to the Service Technician on call, and the technician will return your call to determine if an on-site visit is necessary.

If you have a medical emergency, follow the procedure advised by your doctor. For life threatening medical emergencies, dial 911.
